Important Information

Temperature Measurement and Stabling:

The horses' temperatures must be recorded for at least a 3-day period prior to the competition, twice daily (morning and evening), and continued to be recorded throughout the event. All horses competing in the CDI and therefore stabled in the international stabling area MUST enter their vaccination history AND temperature readings into the FEI Horse app IN ADVANCE!

Horses stabled for the competition that are competing only in the national dressage classes may either enter their temperature readings via the app or record them informally on a piece of paper, bring it with them, and continue recording them informally on-site.

For all horses, a temperature reading must be taken upon arrival, before a stall is assigned, in the presence of a veterinarian. For hygiene reasons, you need to bring your own thermometer for this purpose. Please have it ready upon arrival to reduce unnecessary wait times. Temperature checks upon arrival must be performed either in the trailer or immediately upon unloading the horses. The measurement must be taken by the groom or the participant themselves in the presence of the veterinarian. The results will be noted in the horses' passports. Only after approval by the veterinarian the horses will be stabled and the equipment unloaded.
